Sir:

STATEMENT OF THE SUBSTANCE OF THE INTERVIEW

In the July 1, 2004, Interview Summary record, summarizing the substance of the undersigned's June 18, 2004, telephone interview with the Examiner, the Examiner states that, "ther[e] is no description in the specification for 'heterocyclic structure' for the definition of R4 and to limit the definition of all R groups to that carbon range described in the specification. The attorney agreed." Applicants clarify for the record that Applicants agreed not with the Examiner's position regarding sufficiency of the description in the specification, but rather with the Examiner's suggestion to amend the claims. Applicants believe the language as originally presented is fully supported by the application as filed. Applicants agreed to amend the claims solely in an effort to advance prosecution.

Likewise, in the July 1, 2004, Interview Summary record, summarizing the substance of the undersigned's May 20, 2004, telephone interview with the Examiner, the Examiner states that "there is no support in the specification for [a] 'process of limiting the migration of a cosmetic lipstick' or 'process for limiting the migration of foundation.' The support in the specification . . . is for [ ]limiting the migration of a cosmetic 'lipstick or foundation composition and the application is in condition for allowance subjecting to amending the claims. The attorney agreed." Applicants again clarify for the record that Applicants agreed not with the Examiner's position regarding sufficiency of the support in the specification, but rather with the Examiner's suggestion to amend the claims. Applicants believe the language as originally presented is fully supported by the application as filed. Applicants agreed to amend the claims solely in an effort to advance prosecution.
